Berlin Ripped; U.S. Downs 138

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—RAF Mosquito bombers struck Berlin and western Germany last night in climax to double-header daylight assaults yesterday on aircraft and rail targets by nearly 3000 U. S. bombers and fighters that bagged 138 German planes.

RUSSIA—Reds roll on toward Sevastopol from Feodosiya, Simferopol and Yevpatoriya, reaching points within 25 miles of their Crimean goal. Moscow also captured Ovidopol, improved positions in Iasi sector . . . and were reported to have renewed attacks in Tarnopol region.

Nazi Battalions Give up to Reds

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—The prospect of the fall of Sevastopol today—the Russian orthodox Good Friday—gripped the imagination of the Russian people as the Red Army slashed through disorganized groups of Germans and Romanians, many of whom were surrendering by battalions.

Red Star's correspondent, Maj. Vasily Ignatiev, said "the enemy has cracked at the seams," with fleeing Axis troops out of control and in great confusion, as Gen. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukrainian army and Gen. Yechemenko's Maritime army bore down on the naval base which resisted enemy attack for nine months in 1942 and 1943.

Scores of German and Rumanian battalions deserted their commanders, raced for the port in the bright Crimean sun, but it appeared that even if they reached the base before the Red army tanks their escape would be impossible.

"Your tanks have made sheep of us," said tough German Lieut. Wolfgang Rost. "We are racing to the sea, but even if we get there we have no place to go. Those of us who do not surrender will be killed."

Rost, who was captured on the road between Simferopol and Sevastopol, made the statement to Red officers in the presence of the correspondent for the Moscow Izvestia.

The road from Simferopol, a 25-mile stretch, is all down hill, and parallels the Central Crimean Railway.

Ignatiev said he saw one entire battalion surrender with all its weapons. He witnessed the surrender without resistance of two other battalions, and said the last effort by the German command to establish order in the ranks was made at Simferopol.

2 Nazi Fliers Die in Sea

CARTAGENA, Spain, April 14 (AP)—A German plane plunged into the Mediterranean 10 miles south of Cartagena, killing two of the four-man crew.

It was the first blow against the gouged Nazi capital since a Mosquito attack on March 25 and a 2800-ton British raid March 24. All the swift plywood planes returned.

The German radio declared Allied aircraft bombed the Rome area last night, culminating 24 hours of unusual activity over that city. There was no Allied confirmation.

Forty-four American planes, 36 of them bombers, were lost in raids from British bases Thursday, and the Allied Mediterranean forces lost 19 ships, 16 of them heavy bombers, in flying 1800 sorties. How many of the 19 were American planes lost in the main heavy blow into Hungary was not specified.

A record fleet of more than 1100 Mustangs, Lightnings, and Thunderbolts of the U. S. Eighth and Ninth Air Forces accompanied the 500 to 750 British-based Flying Fortresses and Liberators that hit the Messerschmitt plant at Augsburg, the ballbearing factories at Schweinfurt, the Dornier factories and hangars of Oberpfaffenhofen and hangars at Lechfeld. These fighters knocked 51 Nazi planes out of the air and at least 27 on the ground, while bomber gunners sent down 25 more.

The other 35 planes in the day's bag of 138 fell to U. S. 15th Air Force gunners and pilots winging from Italy to hammer a Messerschmitt plant at Gyor, 70 miles northwest of Budapest, at near-by railway car shops and machine shops, the airfield and assembly plant at Tokol, 11 miles southwest of Budapest, and another airfield 10 miles from the capital.

Bombs Away

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—A 6-year-old boy determinedly made his way to the upper deck of a joggling Fifth Avenue bus, squeezed past his bewildered father into the window side of the seat.

"I want to get there, so I can be the side-gunner," explained the military-minded boy.

Umberto As Ruler to Fight Japs

By MICHAEL CHINGO

NAPLES, April 14 (INS)—Italian Crown Prince Umberto said today the "real war" against Nazism and Nippon "for my people" will be his main aims upon assuming the crown.

In an exclusive interview on his return from commanding Italian forces at Cassino, he explained:

"I am determined the Italians must not only expel Nazism from Italy, but must fight alongside the Allies beyond the Brenner pass until Hitler and his minions are crushed."

"I consider that the sacred duty which Italy may be purified of its past errors and merit a place in the postwar community of free nations."

"We must fight Japan with our fleet and with ground forces now interned in India. We intend to dedicate every ounce of our energy to contributing every effective Italian factor to an Allied victory."

"In politics we shall urge the widest participation in a true coalition government, being always on the alert to avoid the urgency. Italians must have faith in their money. They haven't it now; they must be given it."

Cut Imphal Escape Gap

NEW DELHI, April 14 (AP)—Japanese invasion parties have been encountered in the vicinity of the Bishen-pore-Silchar jungle track southwest of Imphal, further threatening the isolation of both the Manipur plain and advanced Allied bases in Assam, a communique from Mountbatten's southeast Asia command said today.

(A Domei broadcast from Tokyo said the "last remaining escape gap out of the Imphal basin" for the British-Indian Fourth Army Corps had been cut by a flying Japanese column which took a height on the Imphal-Hachong highway 20 miles northwest of Imphal. The "flower of Mountbatten's command is facing annihilation or capture," declared a broadcast from Berlin which quoted Tokyo dispatches.)

Elsewhere on the Assam front, however, Jap invasion forces were reported making no progress.

ONE JAP THRUST FOILED

Only patrol activity elsewhere in the Imphal basin was announced, and one attack in the Palel-Tamu sector southeast of Imphal was repulsed with 100 of the enemy killed.

To the north, around Kohima, the communique said, Allied operations to clear the road between Imphal and Dimapur, on the Bengal-Assam rail lifeline, were progressing.

The British-owned Bombay Times declared it appeared the "publicity side of the Japanese offensive against Imphal has not been happily handled" and urged Allied military leaders to give the public a realistic picture of the enemy invasion of India.

"It is true that one southeast Asia command communique described it (the invasion) as a major offensive," the Times said, "but since then the tendency . . . has been to treat the attack as a rather irresponsible operation . . ."

10 Jap Ships Blasted by Yanks

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ

Associated Press War Editor

The ships and planes with which Japan hoped to revive its smashed defenses at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, were left burning and battered after a massive co-ordinated air attack Wednesday.

One freighter was sunk in Hollandia harbor and nine other small craft were left burning and sinking.

Of the 20 Japanese planes that rose to intercept the 200-plane Allied force, eight were shot down.

Other air war reports told of American bomber attacks ranging from Koepang, Dutch Timor, which is west of Darwin, Australia, to Truk in the eastern Caroline Islands, with way stops at such targets as Wewak, Hansa Bay and Madang, New Guinea; Rabaul, New Britain; Kavieng, New Ireland; and Bougainville island in the Solomons.

Announcement was made by the Moscow radio of establishment of diplomatic relations between Russia and New Zealand.

5 Nazi Planes Downed at Anzio

NAPLES, April 14 (INS)—Anti-aircraft gunners in the Anzio beachhead today shot down five of 50 enemy planes attempting to attack.

The Nazis dropped a few bombs, but caused only limited damage. Artillery fire brought down the last remaining German observation tower at Littoria and scored hits on three tanks outside Cassino.

In the Monte San Croce area enemy mortar and artillery batteries hammered at the Allied lines. In the Cassino region "normal exchanges" of shelling were reported.

Tito's Partisans Recapture Base

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—

Troops under Marshal Tito, Yugoslav Partisan leader, have recaptured Cazin, important highway junction on a main cross-country route between the German bases of Zagreb and Sibenik.

Sixty-two miles south of Cazin, however, reinforced Axis forces stormed and captured Golubie.

Tito reported the whole of western Bosnia north of Sibenik blazing into action.

Berlin Says Allied Planes Attack Rome

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—

The German radio reported today the Rome area was attacked by Allied planes last night in culmination of 24 hours of unusual aerial activity over the city.

OPA, Army Sift Rent Gouging

By STANLEY CHIPMAN AND DONALD MacPHAIL

Black market landlords who exploit the urgent need of servicemen and women for temporary homes here were under a double-barreled investigation today by the Army and the OPA Area Rent Office.

Hundreds of complaints from officers and enlisted men, as well as women in the armed forces, have poured into Army and OPA channels, it was revealed.

Rentals in excess of the legal maximum, in addition to unsanitary conditions in the facilities offered, are the most frequently cited protests.

The complaints point to Cambridge as one of the more irritating sore spots. An investigation of conditions there and elsewhere is being conducted by Maj. Edward Sherman, officer in charge of personal affairs, the First Service Command.

DIFFICULT TASK

Running down the grasping property owners who take advantage of military personnel is a difficult task at times, although a number have been made to see the error of their ways and others are awaiting trial, an OPA spokesman said. He explained:

"A serviceman may come here, bringing his wife and family. His rental period runs perhaps three months before he is transferred to another post. So, in his extreme need to find a shelter for his family promptly, he may not question a jacked-up rental.

"Landlords who take an advantage of that kind risk it because they know the serviceman is apt to be shifted within a period of months. They trust we will never learn he has gouged his tenant. Often we never do hear of it until afterward. But we have caught a number."

Approximately 100 landlords who had failed to register their properties with the Area Rent Office have rushed to do so within the last 24 hours. Many did so because the Boston American threw light on the black market in housing, it was acknowledged at OPA.

One man requested registration papers for 14 pieces of property. He was asked why he had not complied with that rent control regulation before.

"I never knew I had to until I read it in the paper yesterday," he replied.

An ash blonde beauty with a distinctive lyric soprano voice, she was named winner of the $1000 prize contest in competition with more than 1500 entrants, including a 9-year-old school girl and several grandmothers.

"This is the happiest day of my life," the pretty "Princess" said today, as she prepared to invest part of her $1000 prize in War Bonds and set aside the rest to finance her voice training. She aspires to a radio career and hopes eventually to sing opera.

Thrilled by her triumph in the first contest of the kind she had ever entered, Miss Danielson was presented a check for $1000 from Walt Disney by Acting Mayor John E. Kerrigan, of Boston, and was personally congratulated by Miss Andrea Caselotti, the original Snow White of Disney's famous film.

The final auditions, sponsored by RKO Radio Pictures, the Walt Disney Productions and the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser were held in the studios of the Yankee Network, Brookline ave., under the personal supervision of Linus Travers, vice-president of the network.

Selection of Miss Danielson as the winner was made after the finalists had been narrowed down from 47 to three. Left in the last round with the Connecticut girl were Marilyn Shotz of Ransome rd., Brighton, and Estelle Freedland of Shirley st., Winthrop.

For her final selection, she sang Pearl C. Curran's "Life."

A third-year student at the Conservatory, a former soloist at First Baptist church in Putnam and a participant in high school dramatics, Miss Danielson was accompanied to the final auditions by her mother, Mrs. Henry J. Danielson, and a boy-friend, Roland Belliveau, of Springfield.

Missing Girl, 13 Found in Daze

Dazed and bearing mysterious injuries possibly caused by enforced injections of drugs and criminal attacks, 13-year-old Ruth Churchill of Saugus, who vanished Sunday, wandered into Boston police headquarters today. She was unable to tell her name or where she had been. She could only recollect the name of a sister, Mrs. Muriel Jandias of Mt. Auburn st., Wintertown, who was summoned at once.

Ruth's identity was established when she embraced her sister, then collapsed in her arms.

The Saugus Junior High School student was taken home to her stepmother, Mrs. George Churchill, Herbert ave., Saugus. She called Dr. Alfred Weiner of Essex st., Lynn.

On the girl's arms Dr. Weiner found a number of marks like pinpricks. "They could have been made by a hypodermic needle or something else," he said today.

He also discovered bruises on Ruth's legs. "It is possible she was criminally attacked, although I found no direct evidence of it," the physician stated. "A more thorough examination will be needed."

The girl herself was in such an exhausted and dazed condition she could contribute little to solution of the mystery.

Lieut. Frank Wason of the Boston homicide squad and William Shanahan, police stenographer, waited at the home to question her.

In a bag of soiled clothing which the girl was carrying when she appeared at police headquarters was found a small folder, showing a map of downtown Boston. A mark had been drawn on Rutland st., South End, but the girl said she could not recall having been in that section of the city.

She declared she was unable to remember anything that had happened to her after she left the home of her mother, Mrs. Ruth Leonard of Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, Sunday night, to return to Saugus following a week-end visit.

Although only 13, the girl is large for her age, five feet five, and of the general appearance of a person 17 or 18.

Russia Will Rule Europe, Says Ely in Blast at F. D.

After this war, Europe will be Communist and the peace of Europe, "upon which very largely depends the peace of the world," will rest in the hands of Russia, ex-Gov. Joseph B. Ely warned in a stirring Jefferson Day address at the Copley-Plaza.

Massachusetts, mentioned nationwide as a presidential possibility.

The former chief executive of changed that failures of the Roosevelt administration will prolong the war. He called for defeat of "his Communist left wing CIO-New Deal combination once and for all."

"The argument will be made," Ely said "that serious objections to a fourth term will sustain the morale of the German people, therefore jeopardizing the lives of American youth."

"It is my firm conviction that the morale of the German people is sustained by the faults and inadequate policy of this Administration in dealing with that very subject, and that these failures have prolonged the war and will be the cause of sacrificing our sons, brothers, husbands and sweethearts."

PRESERVE DEMOCRACY

"In any event, if we fight for the preservation of democracy, then it behooves us, whatever the cost, to preserve that democracy which is ours."

Declaring that peace terms of the last war were not enforced, especially provisions against aggression, Ely stated a new situation looms after this conflict and that Europe will be under the control of Russia, "the strongest military government in the world."

"While the necessity of collaboration in undertaking the formation of peace and its preservation seems to be a primary obligation of the United States," he asserted, "it would seem foolish to advocate the surrender of one unit of the sovereign power of this country into the hands of an ideology in which we do not believe, until its direction has been made more apparent and definite."

U. S. SOVEREIGNTY

"We must favor, in view of these circumstances, the maintenance of a military and naval establishment sufficient to back up whatever position we may take in regard to the course of international affairs and retain unto ourselves, until we know more about it, the full determination of how that force shall be used."

"When we are satisfied that the Russian aim is not revolutionary in a world sense, but is ready to recognize the principle of self-determination and gives assurances that she refrains from interfering in the government of other people, and particularly the United States, it will be time enough for us to talk about the surrender of sovereignty for the purpose of policing the world."

"I say this with the greatest respect for the courage and resourcefulness of Russia, nor would I, in any manner whatsoever, attempt to interfere with her chosen form of government. If that form is sufficient in the minds and hearts of the Russian people, that is the government of Russia which we should respect and recognize."

HOME FRONT TASKS

Turning back to the home front, Ely warned that at the war's termination we face critical conditions here.

"We will be obliged," he said, "to make the very delicate transition from war to peace, made more delicate by the necessity of also abandoning an economy which, believing in reckless spending under a government bureaucracy, has brought serious threats of inflation and go back to the economy of a balanced budget, the elimination of bad bureaucratic controls and the re-establishment of free enterprise."

"In this complicated and delicate process we must eliminate government from the conduct of business which is competitive with individual enterprise."

Also eliminated, he asserted, must be the "left wing CIO-New Deal combination" and in that regard he stated:

"The Political Action Committee of the CIO has been defined as a political committee under the Smith-Connolly Act by Atty.-Gen. Biddle. It is controlled by men who do not believe in the basic faith of this nation and who would overthrow the fundamental balance of our government, take over the power of the presidency and make us children of the state."

They are the conspirators. They are the backbone and the financial power of this Fourth Term program and some of our fine young men have fallen for their blandishments and their money, money wrung from the hard-earned wages of good American citizens by oppressive methods and insidious and destructive propaganda."

Anti-New Deal Convention Set

CHICAGO, April 14 (INS)—The American Democratic national committee, organized in Chicago in February to oppose the New Deal, will select its presidential candidate at a convention in St. Louis.

The meeting, it was announced today, will be held six weeks before the Democratic national convention, which opens in Chicago July 16.

Dr. Gleason Archer of Boston, national chairman of the committee, said that among the men who may be considered are Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia.

House to Put Up Hospital Fund

Backed by both Democrats and Republicans, a proposal to construct a 200-bed wing at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea appeared certain of passage in the Massachusetts House today, after a vote on the measure was delayed a whole day by hickering over whether the project should start "immediately" or "as soon as possible."

The Democrats also are scheduled to present other veterans' legislation today, including the proposed bonus and a bill to establish local veterans' information centers, but almost solid Republican opposition to these measures is anticipated.

Vote on the Chelsea hospital construction was postponed by a lengthy debate in which Democrats fought hard to insert the word "immediately" into the bill. The Republicans contended the "as soon as possible" phrase, which Republicans had written into the bill, could be used as a subterfuge to delay building.

Throughout the long argument, during which several legislators were rapped to order for indulging in personalities, no agreement was reached on the cost of the proposed hospital construction, although estimates ranged from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

GOP in Maine Hears F.D. Hit

BANGOR, Me., April 14 (AP)—Miss Marion E. Martin, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, accused President Roosevelt today of "proven lack of foresight in the past," and asked her party's State convention:

"Why should we give him the benefit of the doubt and believe that he would show any more foresight in preparing for peace than he did in preparing for obvious war?"

MacArthur Urged As War Secretary

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The appointment of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Secretary of War was proposed by a Republican and a Democratic Senator today as politicians calculated the effect of correspondence which most of them interpreted as indicating MacArthur is receptive to a G. O. P. presidential nomination.

Chiefly by what he left unsaid in an exchange of letters just made public by Rep. Miller (R.) of Nebraska, MacArthur apparently left the way open for a draft movement, and heartened supporters declared they would canvass convention delegates in an effort to persuade them to nominate the General.

Sen. Thomas (R.) of Idaho, one of those who thinks it will be Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on the first ballot, said he would like to see the party's nominee announce that he would ask MacArthur to return home to replace Secretary of War Stimson, himself a Republican.

"It certainly would help the war effort to have MacArthur in that cabinet post," Thomas told a reporter.

There was talk among the Republicans of nominating the general for vice-president, but doubt was expressed that he would accept.

Most congressional Democrats were critical of MacArthur's attitude, as expressed in his letters to Miller, but Senator Chavez (D.) of New Mexico, said he thought his party ought to bring the general home immediately as war secretary.

Sen. Capper Thinks F. D. Will Refuse to Run

WASHINGTON, April 14 (INS)—Belief that President Roosevelt will decline a fourth term nomination "because of certain defeat staring him in the face" was held today by Sen. Arthur Capper (R.) of Kansas.

Capper said the President "is too wise a politician not to see that he will be beaten, and beaten badly in November."

"The President has great personal and political courage," Capper said, "but he also is smart enough to see when he is certain to be licked."

No MacArthur Comment On Letter Publication

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 14 (AP)—There was no comment available today from headquarters of Gen. MacArthur regarding publication of his letters to Rep. A. L. Miller (R.) of Nebraska, or of his victory in the Republican presidential election in Illinois last Tuesday.

Gentile Well Again, Coming Home Soon

By A. I. GOLDBERG

A U. S. FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, April 14 (AP)—Capt. Don Gentile, top American ace in the European theater, may have closed his operational fighter career with his latest mission in which he was injured slightly in a crash landing.

The Piqua, O., ace, who has 30 German planes to his credit—23 shot down in aerial combat and seven destroyed on the ground—has long since passed his second quota of missions.

He was going after the top European group of 32 planes held by RAF Group Capt. G. A. Malan, but had planned it to be his last operational flight in any case.

"I'm going after Malan's mark," he had said as he leaned over the cockpit just before the take-off.

Gentile, now released from the base hospital where he was treated for minor injuries, had hoped to return home with "Shangri-La"—the plane in which he rode out his operational career. But a crash crew found him sitting on the torn plane's wing after his crash landing.

WOULD KEEP FLYING

"I don't want to be a transport pilot, but I sure want to keep on flying," he had said in the officers' lounge the night before his last mission. "I hope I can get into the business end of aviation after this war and then be able to take planes up every time I want."

Gentile did some of his finest flying in lifting his red-nosed Mustang off the turf of this landing field when he returned from that mission and saved himself and a group standing in front of the operations hut.

He was coming in low after a seven-hour flight when his plane lost power. It almost seemed he lifted his sleek plane himself, gunning it over the operations hut flagpole and picking a spot for the crash landing in a plowed field, just short of a ditch and a high-tension wire.

He was taken to the hospital and put to bed after showing signs of shock. He awoke later, however, demanding dinner and spent the rest of the evening listening to the radio.

The next morning friends found him dressed and ready to go back to his quarters.

GOES TO FRIEND'S AID

A friend who talked with him this morning said he could have got three more planes in the air "like sitting ducks" on his latest mission and beaten Malan's record, but he suddenly saw a Focke-Wulf on a companion's tail and left his targets to save his friend.

Then two Germans got on Gentile's tail and he had to break off in evasive action.

Gentile is highly regarded by his companions.

"He's the best pilot there ever was," his armorer, Corp. Gerhard Johnson of Deer River, Minn., had said when he took off before his crash.

"We lose him anyway," observed Sergt. Roy Muffler, radioman of St. Louis, at the take-off. "If he gets his planes he will have passed the mark and won't need to fly again. If he doesn't—" and Sergt. Muffler shrugged his shoulders.

Gentile was tucked into his plane like a baby by ground crew chief Sergt. John Ferra of El Segundo, Cal., who has worked with him for 14 months, and Sergt. Richard Mansfield of Long Meadow, Springfield, Mass., assistant crew chief.

Probe Hospital Death of Babies

NEW LONDON, Ct., April 14—As Coroner Edward G. McKay opened a formal inquest today into the "feeding formula mistake" deaths of four infants at Lawrence and Memorial Associated Hospitals, Richard J. Hancock, hospital administrator, announced that 17 other babies have been affected, some seriously.

He said boric acid powder, mistakenly substituted for dextrose in a feeding formula, caused the deaths and illness.

"The hospital hopes there will be no further deaths," Hancock said, "but fears very much that there will be."

The hospital head disclosed the young woman who made the mistake—a pharmacy school graduate employed in the hospital's combined pharmacy and storeroom—is a patient in the hospital suffering from nervous collapse.

Hancock reported that unused portions of the formula were turned over to state technicians whose findings "have so far confirmed suspicion of the hospital concerning deaths." He said there was no known antidote for boric acid poisoning, and added that adults probably would have been made only mildly ill by the dose.

The condition of six of the 20 babies made ill by the formula was described as "critical." The others are under observation.

The victims, all less than a week old, were children of service men. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Enders of New London; Mr. and Mrs. James D. Evans of Groton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodman of Norwich; and Chief Specialist and Mrs. Fred Thomasula.

Thomasula, stationed with the Coast Guard at Ft. Trumbull, Groton, Ct., and a former member of the Buffalo, N. Y., police force, said his wife had come from Buffalo to New London a month ago to be near him.

"It was our first child after five years of married life," he added sadly.

Boy Crushed by Pole In Grave Condition

Crushed by a 30-foot clothes pole, 4-year-old Salvatore Zogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angel Zogle of Tremont st., Somerville, was reported in a "poor" condition at Cambridge City Hospital today.

The freak accident occurred before his mother. A neighbor, William Stroh, lifted the pole from the child.

MAN WITH PAST—James E. Carter, shown with his wife and son, was doing all right until the FBI tagged him in Los Angeles on a draft evasion charge. Fingerprint check revealed him to be an escaped convict, sentenced to life term for murder in Mississippi.

Tax Guess Game Ends Saturday

Saturday is the deadline for filing estimated 1944 income tax returns, warns Internal Revenue Collector Denis W. Delaney.

The returns may be filed up to 5 p. m. at the income tax offices at 141 Milk st. or the Federal building. If mailed, they should be postmarked prior to Saturday midnight.

Taxpayers must file these estimated returns, the collector said, whether or not their taxes are withheld by employers. Failure to receive blanks will not be accepted as an excuse for not making a return.

Vichy Clamps Down New Religious Curb

BARCELONA, April 14 (AP)—Joseph Darnand, secretary-general for maintenance of order in the Vichy regime, has put all Catholic Youth and other organizations in vision, advices reaching here said today.

Backed by his militia forces, Darnand was reported to have put in active practice the anti-religious philosophy of Marcel Deat, minister of labor and secretary of state who is now called by Frenchmen "the brains of Vichy."

Darnand was said to have advised the clergy that henceforth government representatives would attend every religious service.

Reports from France said the action was taken as a result of a meeting in Paris last month of French cardinals and archbishops who condemned Vichy's policy of sending French youths to German labor battalions and persecuting patriots resisting Germans.

The church hierarchy also was said to have attacked Vichy's attempts to persuade French women to work in Germany. In reply to the clergy's statement, Deat wrote in his newspaper, L'Aeuvre de Paris, that furnishing of "arguments to dissidents and pretexts to maquis (guerrillas)" by the church "is utterly intolerable."

"When we have a truly strong state—and that might be sooner than expected—these episcopal fantasies and pseudo-cardinals will certainly not be tolerated," Deat asserted.

Fr. Gallagher's Reply on Russia

Though the Soviet has undergone considerable change in 10 years, Russia is still Communist, the Rev. Edward Gallagher, S. J., former president of Boston College, will say tomorrow in the Pilot, replying to Professor Samuel H. Cross of Harvard.

Prof. Cross assertedly criticized a talk given recently by the Rev. Rev. Edmund Walsh in Boston and declared that Fr. Walsh was misrepresenting the Soviet political aims.

In reply, the former Boston College head will say in the Pilot:

"It may be that the professor was misquoted. We can hardly imagine him publicly asserting that Fr. Walsh, with whom he is acquainted, was deliberately misrepresenting anything in a public lecture.

"Let us omit the word 'deliberately' and examine the assertion that Fr. Walsh was misrepresenting Soviet political aims. Dr. Cross and Fr. Walsh both have a perfect right to their opinions as to what Soviet political aims really are, but no one can justly accuse another of misrepresenting Soviet aims if he himself is not certain as to what Soviet aims really are. "And who does know for certain what they are? Mr. Churchill does not know. President Roosevelt admits that they are bewildering. Sec. Hull speaks of Russia's unilateral action.

"To know Soviet policy means to know how the Soviet government would, or at least should, act in a given emergency. Fr. Walsh indicated what these aims might prove to be if the Soviet government continued to act along the lines it has followed since the conference held at Moscow and Teheran.

"Anyone who does know what the Soviet political aims really are will be doing the world a signal favor by making them known. Such a revelation would go far toward helping the Powers allied to Russia to formulate their foreign policy accordingly.

"As to Fr. Walsh's political opinions with respect to Russia being 'medieval,' the professor was evidently not using this word in its strict meaning, namely, pertaining to the middle ages. I presume he meant that Fr. Walsh's ideas of Soviet activities formed from close contact with the State Department of the Soviet government when he was in Russia, and from constant study of things Soviet ever since, are old, out of date and outmoded, despite the great progress Russia has made and is making.

"I think we can take it for granted that Fr. Walsh is fully acquainted with Russian progress and with the part that Russia is playing in the present war. He is also a good authority on Communism, on Marxian philosophy, on the tactics of Lenin and on the tergiversations of Stalin. He knows that Communism is not out of date or outmoded and that Soviet activities since 1917 have been based upon Communist doctrine as interpreted by Lenin and Stalin."

Hub Black Mart Gas Ring Probed by U. S. Grand Jury

Operations of a black market gasoline ring, which OPA inspectors claim furnished stolen coupons worth 250,000 gallons to downtown barber shops, stores and cafes for re-sale, came under the scrutiny of the federal grand jury today.

One of the barber shops frequently mentioned in connection with the case is located in Seel-ay sq. and was understood to be patronized by numerous well-known City Hall and Suffolk Courthouse politicians who purchased the stolen stamps.

According to the charges of federal investigators, many of the coupons were obtained by the ring through Miss Beverly C. Hollinger, 19, a former clerk of the Hyde Park rationing board.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Harold G. Jackson said her statements, following her arrest on a charge of "transferring and delivering" coupons, implicated members of the ring, now being held in jail and several other persons.

U. S. Commr. William C. Rogers has continued until May 4 hearings of charges against Miss Hollinger; her uncle, Charles M. Paratore, a barber shop proprietor; and Angelo Piacentini, Somerville cafe owner.

OPA inspectors have hinted that the grand jury probe may also result in an indictment against another girl ration board clerk.

"ALL-BRAN WORKED WONDERS FOR ME!"

Says Constipation Sufferer

There's real hope for common constipation sufferers in this unsolicited letter!

"Thanks for what KELLOGG'S ALL-
BRAN has done for me. For 13 years old.
Had been taking pills and salts almost every night. 6 weeks ago, I started eating
KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning.
Soon I had regular movements without any trouble. I can't praise ALL-BRAN enough. It sure works wonders for me."
Mr. E. C. Zook, Box 114, Fairbury, Ill.

How can such amazing results for thousands be explained? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of certain "cellulosic" elements, lack of which in the diet is a common cause of constipation. They help the friendly colonic flora huff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination.
KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's simply a gentle-acting,
"regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals.
Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't get real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

The fat hand of Fate has finally caught up with me—my bookkeeper is leaving come the flowers of May. How such a calamity could happen to me the best of all possible bosses and the father of a family to boot is something even Dunninger will never be able to explain. It seems just yesterday when Gilly the Gorgeous one came to me asking for a job. Five feet ten and all of it good, I should have known better than to have believed that me and my 4Fs could have held her for longer than we did. Of course I think it was a bit inconsiderate of Gen. Eisenhower to repatriate her boy friend last month even if he did spend over two years in the sun and steam of Iran. Anyway I put up a real fight to keep our honey but now that I think of it a 50c raise and a couple of Hershey bars is no competition for a wedding ring and a first sergeant.

What to do. What to do. Maybe Jacobowsky and his "two possibilities" fit in here. Maybe I'll get another bookkeeper in which case that is good or maybe I won't get another bookkeeper in which case there are always two possibilities—I'll either go to jail or I'll go crazy.

Lady can you add and subtract. Possibly you're a genius and can type a word or two. If so fly—fly—fly— to 25 State Street and ask for the King. You Can Plant Now If Ground Is Dry

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head, Market Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser demonstration garden on Boston Common.)

Victory gardeners who discover that their ground is drying out may safely plant their first seeds, peas and spinach, this week-end.

Of all the mistakes made by beginners I feel that the depth the seed is planted is the worst. If your seed bed has been well prepared as directed in Wednesday's article, you should be able to adjust the planting accurately. The best rule to follow is to cover small seeds about one-half inch and larger seeds three-fourths to one inch. It is not necessary to have seeds too deep as this weakens the plant and encourages disease. Be sure that the soil is firm over the seed.

PLANT ENOUGH

For the experienced gardener, this job seems simple, but for beginners it may cause some concern. Large seeds such as peas can be spaced quite accurately. The usual spacing is about one inch between seeds. It is well, however, to put in a little extra seed for the birds and cutworms. One pound of seed should plant about 100 running feet of row.

With the smaller seeds such as spinach, beets and carrots, our gardeners must realize that it takes more seed per foot of row to get a good stand.

These seeds must be planted thicker or they will not come up. It is very easy, however, to plant too much seed unless you use special care. Plant carefully and drop about 20 seeds per foot of row.

Be sure the seed is covered and the soil firm. In this way you should get good germination. Note—If your soil is light or sandy, peas can be planted in the bottom of a 5-inch furrow.

Allies in the more vigorous prosecution of the war against Japan.

Recalling the promises made to the American and Filipino armies in the Philippines two years ago, the governor declared America must keep faith with the prisoners of Bataan. He spoke at a dinner given in his honor by Oregon Republicans.

The Governor and Mrs. Bricker and party left last night for San Francisco. In his dinner address he said in part:

"It is wrong to take the resources and effort of the country to try to defeat Japan, and there must be no letdown if Germany succumbs first."

"The theory that once the Nazis are beaten we can fight the Japs on a part-time basis is fallacious and dangerous. The Jap is a cunning, treacherous and powerful enemy."

"In the job ahead we ought to have the full support of our Allies as well."

"I don't subscribe to the idea that our war production is allocated in sectional units around the country and that you can turn off the production in the East as you would a water spigot, or in the South and keep it going in the Middle West or on the Pacific Coast."

"We have only one giant machine for war production. It is completely integrated and takes in all 48 states."

"We can not relax our effort one iota as long as a single enemy soldier offers armed resistance, until we've crushed the last Jap into the ground and victory is ours."

Marie Lee Peeked at Sinatra ... Now Servicemen Peek at Her

By PAULINE WARREN

WHEN Marie Lee, a luscious-looking 16-year-old redhead, crept back stage to get a closer view of Frank Sinatra during his Boston appearance last December, she had no idea it would catapult her into correspondence with innumerable service men on a dozen battle fronts.

Bill Jones, Boston Evening American camera man, caught Marie trying to peer around the velvet curtain shielding "The Voice" from his swooning public and before the lobby-scooters were out of the theater the picture was already in the paper. This was the first time Marie was photographed and it already has had world-wide repercussions.

POSTOFFICE MYSTIFIED

The Dorchester postoffice was completely mystified when mail from everywhere began arriving for Marie, who lives at 271 Talbot ave., Dorchester.

Evidently there is something about Marie the servicemen like, but they protest bitterly at her attempted "peeping" at Sinatra.

A group in the "lonesome Southwest Pacific" want to adopt Marie as "the girl they would like to see peep from behind the trees in these islands." Another group wants Marie to "stop looking at Sinatra and concentrate on them."

Most of them write in groups, although here and there a few try it on their own. Quite a few send in a complete description of themselves while others ironically state "I'm just a soldier." Some confide their loneliness and others their troubles. HEY! RISE AGAIN One effervescent young man writes: "Just recently I was busted down to back private, but will make the grade again very shortly."

"Judging by your picture," he adds, "I would pick you as the 'Belle of Boston.'"

In the meantime Marie is working in a department store to earn money to pay her tuition in a school for models. She reads every book on modeling she can find and studies all the fashion magazines. Oh, yes. And she is developing writer's cramp in answering her letters.

Her favorite recreations are the movies, skating, dancing and swimming.

She was educated in St. Matthew's Parochial School and Dorchester High School for Girls and has her heart set on being a model. Her mother, Mrs. Herbert Lee, is the former Agnes Berio of the well-known swimming family from South Boston.

Our Most Serious Threat Comes from Pacific

IT IS BECOMING clearer every day that the great danger which threatens the prestige of the United States is from the Pacific, not from Europe.

That menace today is from Russia and Japan, who are allied—but for what purposes? no one surely knows.

The overconcentration of American attention on the European war, which is primarily England's and Russia's war, and the neglect of the Japanese war, which is peculiarly AMERICA'S WAR, is likely to bring reverses of a serious character.

These reverses will probably be sustained by England and possibly by America, too, but NOT BY RUSSIA.

England might possibly lose India—her richest possession.

The Japanese are even now converging on Imphal, which they have isolated except by air.

The sympathy of the Indian people is not with England.

The inhabitants of India will in all probability make an effort to free themselves from the English yoke.

In that case, what is more likely than an Indian alliance with Japan, and even with Russia?

Like seeks like, and Russia, Japan and India are all three ASIATIC.

Another serious development of the Asiatic situation is Russia's apparent intention to pick quarrel with China.

Her object would seem plainly to be to invade the Chinese Province of Sinkiang. This province borders on Russian possessions and borders on India and would put Russia in a position to divide China with Japan and possibly to divide India.

This is all in line with usual oriental subtlety and duplicity but deeply affects American interests. If Russia should invade China under an agreement with Japan, this would deprive the United States of its one opportunity to defeat and occupy Japan through Chinese territory.

It will be noted that Russia never brought up the question of the Sinkiang-Outer Mongolia borderline or whether China or Russia was the ruler of Outer Mongolia until JAPAN BEGAN TO INVADE INDIA.

Then, as if by a tacit agreement with Tokyo, Moscow set up claims of "invasion" by China into her puppet state of Outer Mongolia, about which her rights to complete sovereignty are very hazy.

Russia's sudden charge of Chinese "aggression" is as absurd as were Russia's claims of Finland's "aggression" on her in 1939—a charge that set the whole world laughing.

But it is not with Outer Mongolia that Russia is concerned.

Events are proceeding swiftly in the direction of a UNITED ASIA, DOMINATED BY JAPAN AND RUSSIA AND ANTAGONISTIC TO AMERICA AND EUROPE.

The divisions among the Occidental races make it easy for the Oriental races to unite and perhaps to secure the world domination they have so often sought.

There is no man with a profounder knowledge of the Oriental mind than the famous Chinese scholar and litterateur, Dr. Lin-Yutang.

In his most recent book, "Between Laughter and Tears," he gives utterance to these prophetic words:

"THIS REVOLUTION (OF ASIA AGAINST THE WEST) IS BEING FORCED BY ASIA UPON EUROPE . . . THE FORCES OF A RISING ASIA ARE STEADILY MOVING ON . . . THE EMERGENCE OF ASIA—AND I THINK OF RUSSIA AS HALF-ASIATIC—IS THE GREATEST SINGLE FACTOR OF THIS WAR. IT HAS UPSET THE WAR SCHEDULE AND IS GOING TO UPSET THE PEACE SCHEDULE. IT WILL UPSET EVERYTHING, IN FACT."

It is upsetting everything!—and will continue to do so.

Let us remember that Stalin said to the Japanese Ambassador when signing the Russian-Japanese treaty of alliance:

"I, TOO, AM AN ORIENTAL."

A Notable Achievement

NEARLY a year and a half ago Clifford Johnson, a young Coast Guardsman, was severely burned in the Coconut Grove night club fire.

This week Johnson left Brighton Marine Hospital for a three weeks' visit with his family in Sumner, Mo.

In the period between the catastrophe and the serviceman's departure for home, medical science achieved one of its greatest victories.

Boston City Hospital doctors kept the lad alive in spite of the fact that 65 per cent of his body was covered with burns.

The feat required more than 100 blood transfusions, the grafting of 17,000 pin points of skin and the most expert care.

Marine Hospital physicians and surgeons later took over and carried on the work.

The achievement is much more important than most persons realize. Not only has it saved the life of a fighting man, but it has given medical science the increased knowledge that may mean the difference between life and death for hundreds of soldiers and sailors burned in battle.

On the Side

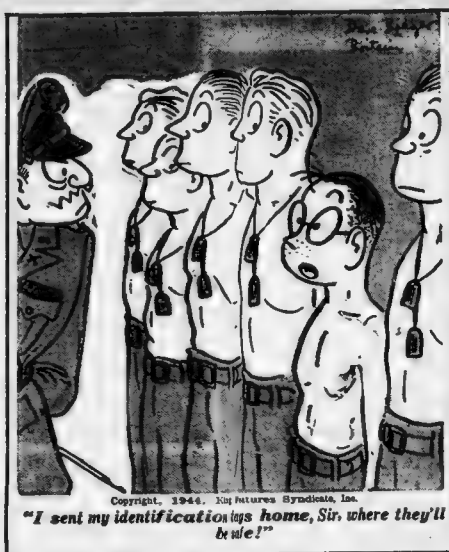

Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc.
You far away—you know
That when the wine cup reddies

O'er the lake,
I call to you three thousand miles apart,
And, lo, all golden for your sole smiles apart,
Spring dimples through
The doorway of my heart!
—MATHER.

THIS IS NO. 2 in our second series of poems to be sent to husbands and sweethearts in armed forces. . . The first to sing Ernest Ball's great ballad, "Love Me and the World Is Mine," on any stage was Eugene Howard. Willie and Eugene Howard and Thomas Potter Dunne, billed as the Messenger Boy Trio, were the first to sing "Sweet Adeline" on any stage. . . Our research to ascertain the oldest age at which any woman has become a mother is making progress. Mrs. Frank C. Henderson, well-known New Yorker, informs me her father was born when his mother, Mrs. Robert J. Faulkner, was 62 years old. He was Mrs. Faulkner's 12th child.

PASSING BY: Gene Austin, veteran crooner. His record of "My Blue Heaven" sold over 4,000,000 copies. This is the high mark for record sales. . . Lili Darvas, wife of the brilliant playwright, Ferenc Molnar. The best Molnar play was "The Devil." Remember George Arliss in that? Nearly as good as "The Play's the Thing." Holbrook Blinn starred in that. Others of this remarkable playwright's hits were "The Phantom Rival," "Lilom," "The Swan," "Fashions for Men" and "Husbands and Lovers." . . Harry Davenport. If Harry isn't the dean of American actors who is? He has been on the stage 73 years! He is 78. He was born in New York city and is another of the many examples of long-lived men born in the big town.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: In 1938 a Japanese military expert wrote: "Vladivostok is a dagger pointed at the heart of Japan. So long as it is in the hands of the Soviet Union Japan can never feel secure." There was a resident of New York named Georgia Alabama Florida. He was a theatrical man. He explained his curious cognomen by stating his father's name was Joe Florida, his mother's name was Georgianna and he was born on a show boat tied up at Mobile, Ala. . . The flowery language used to describe items on some menu cards originated in Kansas City, Mo. A restaurant owner there had the item "sirlon steak and baked potatoes" on his menu. He decided to change this to read "Charcoal broiled Kansas City steak and mammoth Idaho baked potato spread with creamery butter." This change increased the sale of the item 2 per cent. So the eatery maestro gave his entire menu the flowery language touch with similar results.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Has your Mules & Men Department any good advice for short men? A—Our Mules & Men File No. 245A says: "Short men should never strut, boast, talk loudly, marry tall women or smoke big cigars." . . Q—What did you say were the six best silent films? A—"The Birth of a Nation," "Covered Wagon," "The Miracle Man," "The Big Parade," "The Last Laugh" and "Broken Blossoms."

ASIDES: Specialists in spaghetti are doing unusually well in the restaurant field at this time. On the Pacific Coast there is a successful chain of spaghetti emporiums. I may start a restaurant after the war. I have a marvelous idea for one. My grandfather was a New York restaurant man. . . As to the marrying champion of the United States, it certainly must be Alfred Dupont of Reno, Nev., who is 40 years old and has been married 11 times. I know a fellow of the same age who has been married nine times. All his ex-wives are living. How would you like to be married to a man who had eight living ex-wives? Would you worry?

SIDELIGHTS: Prices of used cars continue to soar. A sale recorded some time ago was that of a 1941 coupe that retailed new for $926 being sold for $1500. . . In Australia if you don't vote you are fined $6 and are considered a slacker. I still think compulsory voting would be a great thing for the United States. . . Washington, D. C. has the country's highest record for the consumption of hard liquor.

THE FIRST LINE Jack Benny spoke on the radio in 1932 was: "Ladies and gentlemen, this is Jack Benny. There will be a slight pause while you say 'who cares?'" . . . It wouldn't be a bad idea to photograph the plays at the bases in baseball as the finishes are photographed in racing. Umpires are not infallible. They make quite a few errors in calling close plays. It would be interesting to photograph a few games and see for certain how often the umpires have been wrong. . . In January, 1942, the odds on United Nations victory were quoted in London as nine to five. What do you say the odds should be now? Also, what should be the odds on a Nazi defeat in 1944 and a Jap defeat in 1945? . . . The first 10 gasoline automobiles on the market were the Duryea, Ford, Franklin, Haynes, Knox, Olds, Packard, Pierce Arrow, Stearns and Winton. The first auto I ever rode in was a Pierce Arrow. I knew the chauffeur personally. First car I owned was a Chandler.

THE U. S. BIRTH RECORD is held by an Austin, Tex., woman, who from 1916 to 1933, inclusive, gave birth to a child each year. . . Most of the great charmers of history, the type that drove great men wild, had eyes that in color "hesitated between gray and green." So states Harry Thurston Peck, who made a study of the celebrated heart breakers of history. So, young woman, if you have greenish gray eyes you probably have what it takes to be a super duper heart-throb. Incidentally, Mr. Peck claimed that none of the aforementioned great charmers of history had blue eyes.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 14—The unattached ladies in Hollywood who have a secret (and not so secret) yen for Robert Cummings as a movie leading man may now start their lament.

Veronica Lake gets him. I mean, she will be co-starred with the popular Mr. C. in "Victoria Grandole" if he is able to untangle himself from his fraas on his Universal contract by the time the movie starts at Para. Bob won his suit, you know, but the studio immediately sent out one of those legal appeals that other studios were to keep hands off until further decisions were handed down.

There will be plenty of time for the legal maneuvers because Veronica wants to go overseas. She told me: "I have asked the Victory Committee to send me overseas for 10 weeks. I hope to get a screen assignment soon because I don't want to have to be back until November. That is when 'Victoria Grandole' is scheduled to start, with Mitchell Leisen directing."

I WAS INTERESTED to hear that Ingrid Bergman had taken an option on Mary Webb's novel, "Precious Baine," along with Dudley Nichols and Jean Renoir. I suppose that means Ingrid will get permission to borrow herself from David Selznick, although the story is not so glamorous as many in which she has played. The girl, in fact, has a harelip, so Ingrid may only be sponsoring it as a business proposition.

DANA ANDREWS, the boy who started as a gas station attendant and was financed by his buddies, will achieve stardom in "Those Endearing Young Charms," the new York stage play. He will be co-starred with Teresa Wright. Sam Goldwyn was the first one to give Dana a chance, although up to now his biggest roles have been at 20th Century-Fox, the company that shares his contract with Sam. Dana was marvelous in "The Purple Heart" and although he was just a stooge in "Up in Arms" with Danny Kaye you couldn't help but realize what a really swell actor he is. In fact, Dana has never given a really bad performance.

JIMMIE DUNN is expected to be signed any edition for the role of Johnny Nolan in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." Practically every other casting possibility has been eliminated, largely because Jimmie is so much the type of Johnny—good looking and sweet natured. If Jimmie gets it, and I was told at the studio it is a 99 to 1 chance, it will be a great break for him. He was once Fox's most important leading man and when he and Sally Eilers made "Bad Girl" he was tops. Things weren't so good for Jimmie until he was given the chance to play opposite Ethel Merman in "Panama Hattie." He was on Broadway a year or longer.

Gets Favorite Leading Man

Adler is gifting Anita Louise with a house for a wedding anniversary present May 1. It's the former Kay Francis home in Briarcrest. Anybody who can get a tent in these times is lucky, so Anita really has something to be excited about. She's fairing all right in her career, too. Anita, Jinx Falkenburg and some of the other lovelies who were in "Nine Girls" at Columbia will again be grouped in a little fashion opus called "Between Us Girls." Marguerite Chapman is the star, and it is about the lives of models in swank modiste establishments.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Mary Gargan received a letter from Bill in which he revealed that he, Paulette Goddard and Keenan Wynn have all been ill on their jaunt in India. Bill had to undergo an operation on his ears—and it was a serious one. It was per-

My Day

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, THURSDAY.—Tuesday morning, I had the great joy of breakfasting with our oldest son, and he had seen our youngest boy who is now somewhere at sea. It is exciting when a loved one appears out of space, so to speak, and even though you do not get much opportunity to talk, except at meals or in the middle of the night, since the rest of the day must be spent at the department, a glimpse gives you a chance to renew contacts and hear a great deal of news which never gets to you in letters.

On Tuesday afternoon I went to the annual thrift shop meeting and enjoyed a most interesting program. I returned home in time to see Mrs. Bernard Ryan from Albion, N. Y., who was in Washington for a day or two, and to greet my guests, who spent the night with me. They were six ladies representing church women and educators from different parts of the country.

AFTER DINNER we saw the films which the President of Guatemala sent by me to my husband. Unfortunately my husband did not have time to see them before he left, but he will when he returns.

On Wednesday I took the mid-day train to Newark, N. J., and spoke at the Urban League dinner there. This is one of the organizations working throughout our country for better racial understanding between white and colored people.

formed by an Army doctor and was caused, they believed, by so much airplane travel at an altitude of 25,000 feet. In spite of the fact that the troupe has been ailing, they haven't missed a single show. Mary caught the train Tuesday for New York to await Bill's arrival.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Ginger Rogers' mother-in-law and Jackie Briggs' mother, Mrs. Benjamin Katz, is recovering from a major operation; Phil Baker and Imgard Erik will be married May 8 in Judge Edward Brand's chambers; Helmut Dantine is doing his best to reconcile with Gwen Anderson, who divorced him a year ago; Capt. John Huston is in New York and his heart, Olivia De Havilland, is in the Aleutians. But Olivia is expected home very very soon; Dave Rose is taking Gloria De Haven out nightly, and how they denied their interest in each other when it was first printed here; Jeffrey Bernerd has signed that wizard magician, John Calvert, for one of the leads in "Are These Your Parents?" Calvert is so attractive and a good actor, too. Two major companies are after him, I hear; Mrs. Jean Hersholt told me that she had her first white bridal bouquet at her 30th wedding anniversary. "I didn't have white flowers when Jean and I were married," she said.

LOOKING AROUND town I notice many film folk who had passed their 25th wedding anniversaries, the Ralph Morgans among them. Rosalind Russell passed by in a big picture hat with Capt. Freddie Brissson, the Kenneth Thomsons, the John Stables.

Waste Paper
Is Urgently Needed.
Are You Saving Yours?

Paper Salvage Drive Gaining

Federal building employees to-day staged a one-day paper salvage campaign in an effort to better the records set by City Hall and State House workers in reclaiming waste paper.

Meanwhile, in emphasizing the importance of salvage drives, Brig. Gen. C. H. Kells, commanding general of the Boston Port of Embarkation, disclosed that about 200 tons of paper leaves Boston on every cargo vessel carrying supplies to our armed forces.

"The Army cannot get along without paper," he said. "Almost everything shipped to our troops from cigarettes to trucks, is wrapped in paper. Because of the shortage of paper coming from woodpulp, waste paper is a vitally important war material today."

Save waste kitchen fats for gunpowder. Take them in clean, wide-mouthed cans to your meat dealer.

Bent Nail Helps Boys Loot Mail

LOWELL, April 14—Police disclosed today that a bent nail was the "key" used by two 12-year-old boys to open a mail box of the N. E. Telephone & Telegraph Co. in the main lobby of the post office, from which 50 pieces of mail including $200 in checks were stolen. The pair cleaned out the box three times during one night, investigators said, and opened the letters in search of cash. Finding none, they threw the letters into the Concord River and along mail including $200 in checks were the bank.

YES, if early fatigue, irritability, lack of "get-up-and-go" plague you—look to your vitamins! For though these conditions are often due to other causes, they may be signs of mild B vitamin deficiency! And nutritionists warn war meals may be thin on these vital "Spark Plug" vitamins!

How can you get more? Scientists define the B Vitamin Complex as "those water-soluble vitamins as found in yeast." And now Fleischmann's, the greatest name in yeast, brings you "Fleischmann's B Vitamins Yeast Tablets!"

GRAND BILL AT BOSTON

By DON WARD

The new bill at the RKO-Boston is really something. It has half a dozen stunning acts on the stage and the thriller-diller action film, "Gung Ho," on the screen. The whole thing's certainly a money's worth, friends.

The ever-so-pretty redhead, Dolly Dawn, can do such tricks with popular songs as you never saw, even bringing the audience into it—making 'em love it. Miss Dolly's going places. Wait and see.

Then there's Bojangles Bill Robinson dancing his shoes off and giving an idea of himself tapping along 40 years from now.

And musn't forget Larry Flint and his swell RKO-Boston orchestra, who can give cards and spades to many a "big name" band. Honest!

Believe it or not, Wallace's puppets, operated like the old fashioned Punch and Judy shows, are killers.

And if that isn't enough there is Pat Henning with his convulsing imitations of famous movie stars. Does trick falls, too.

O'Brien Girl in New Triumph

By PEGGY DOYLE

Appealing, little Margaret O'Brien, whose "Journey for Margaret" performance singled her out as Hollywood's first small fry actress, rings the bell again with a starring portrayal in "Lost Angel." In the current attraction at Loew's State and Orpheum the little O'Brien's touching, heart-stirring performance. She could do Peter Pan without sacrifice to the memory of Maude Adams' immortal stage creation.

Giving her fine support are Craig and Marsha Hunt, who does nice work as the night club entertainer whose mercy is frequently strained at the seams over fiance Craig's un-playing defections. Keenan Wynn as a mobster who escapes the electric chair with the help of Craig and the real murderer's confession, is outstanding in a fairy-tale reading session with the little "professor," as her reporter-friend tags her. Philip Merivale is properly astute and scholarly as the wall's chief mentor.

Top Bacon Recipes

By MARTHA LEE

OF INTEREST to the thrifty homemaker today is the fact that bacon, at one point per pound, is an excellent food buy. Such a point bargain takes bacon to the breakfast and lunch table again. But it also keeps it at the dinner table where we've come to know it. Continue having bacon dinners, for by serving low-point—and no-point—meats two or three times a week, points cause little fuss.

Include eggs often as an accompaniment, too, while they are so plentiful. A surplus of any food in these days of rationing and shortages should be taken advantage of.

Another economical point to bear in mind is the fact that bacon can be a no-point meat. Kitchen arithmetic shows that two pounds of bacon can be purchased with points received from each pound of salvaged fat.

Here are some tested recipe suggestions for bacon dinners:

CORN CHOWDER WITH BACON

1 strips bacon 4 potatoes
2 cups cream-style corn
2 cups top milk 1 onion, chopped
Salt and pepper
Cut potatoes in cubes and cook in 2 cups boiling salted water until tender. Do not drain. Add corn and milk. Cut bacon in small pieces and fry until crisp with the onion. Add to chowder, season to taste, and serve with toasted crackers. Makes 4 servings.

PORK LIVER AND BACON PATTIES

1 lb. pork liver
2 tbsp. catsup 1 large onion
1 tsp. salt 4 slices bacon
Scald and grill liver. Combine liver, catsup and salt. Shape into 4 large patties. Cut onions in 1/2 inch slices. Place a patty on an onion slice. Wrap bacon around patty and onion. Secure with toothpick. Bake at 400 deg. F. for 30 minutes.

BRAISED PORK LIVER AND BACON

1 lb. pork liver 1/2 lb. bacon
Pan-broil bacon. Season and dredge liver with flour and brown in 1/4 cup bacon drippings. Add 2 tablespoons catsup to 1/2 cup water and simmer until tender. Serve with hot bacon on a hot platter.

BRAISED PORK LIVER AND BACON

1 lb. pork liver
1/2 lb. bacon
Pan-broil bacon. Season and dredge liver with flour and brown in one-fourth cup bacon drippings. Add 2 tablespoons

Beauty

FOR VICTORY HANDS . . . hands that are lovely and soft and charmingly expressive . . . despite long hours in victory gardens and in war plants . . . there is a new kind of hand cream . . . corrective as well as protective . . . to keep Milody's hands in the pink of condition . . . and as beautiful and interesting as those of M-G-M Star Laraine Day.

Hand Cream for Victory Gardeners

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

IF YOU'RE PLANNING a Victory Garden . . . if you're contemplating getting back to the soil for that delightfully earthy feeling of security and next-to-nature goodness . . . then feminine hands just won't remain feminine and lovely unless . . . they are first protected against the cool, moist dirt they'll appropriately be grovelling in.

Even if you use gardening gloves . . . you won't obtain sufficient protection for the expression medium of your personality . . . since moisture and dirt seep through . . . and take root in the hand tissues . . . as your hands will take root in the fertile fields of colorful profusion that you envision in reward for patriotic and personal labors.

LOVELY UNSTAINED HANDS

Therefore, your hands must have protection and correction . . . if you are to be ready for the social hours that must be intermittently programmed between garden and personal endeavors. It won't be a valid excuse for your hands . . . to say they've been busily digging in the garden.

For you as a well-groomed woman must have victory hands after gardening hours as well. And, for victory hands . . . soft, lovely unstained hands . . . despite long, endless love labors in your garden . . . for all-time hands of loveliness . . . there is a hand-tone . . . a famous corrective hand preparation especially designed this season to meet the increased exigencies of hands at work . . . hands at war.

And, if you're a war worker . . . where grease and grime are tangible evidence that you're doing your bit for victory and the war effort . . . you, too, can well use this hand-tone . . . a rich, rich cream that looks like light cold cream and will work into the skin of your hands. When this rich, rich cream hand-tone is used before starting work in the garden . . . whatever dirt the hands accumulate, can be washed away quickly and easily . . . because the dirt will not have had a chance to work its way into the skin. This hand-tone leaves a light film to protect carefully the hands from the dirt and grime of gardening.

TAKE ONLY FEW MINUTES

Massage into the hands for two or three minutes . . . the lush goodness of its richness has both healing and shaping qualities . . . which will help to develop the contour of your hands . . . preserving loveliness and enhancing their charm.

This hand-tone is something new in hand creams . . . created by a fastidious cosmetic house . . . nationally known for the traditional goodness of their preparations.

For the name of this moderately-priced corrective and protective hand-tone, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Parents Ban Dances

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We have a nice home and my parents give me very good clothes. The trouble is they love me too much and don't want me to go to dances with soldiers. I'm 16 and feel I'd like to make these boys happy before they go overseas and perhaps never come back. I have been thinking of leaving home, but I haven't any money and I doubt if I could support myself, but I feel like a bird in a cage.

M. B. S.

Looking back on the time you were Sweet Sixteen, you'll probably thank goodness you didn't have the money to run away from home and then regret bitterly that most foolish step. Your parents' evidently have been reading in the newspapers some of the hideous things, like torch murders, that have happened to girls who've had some such slogan as "I can take care of myself."

At the same time I think your parents should take into consideration that at 16 one feels the urge to dance and enjoy one's youth. Try and talk them over into letting you have friends in your own home. All said and done, parents are pretty good judges of human nature, and will know which of your friends are worth while.

Money as Bridal Present

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I am going to give money as a wedding present. I know the prospective groom very well, but I have never met the bride-to-be. How and to whom should I give this money-gift?

M. R. R.

Even though you do not know the bride-to-be, it is to her you should send the money-gift. Make out a check or money order in her name and mail it to her at her home address, or if you wish to deliver the envelope yourself, send her crisp new bills or a bill. Then, in your note enclosed, explain that you were so uncertain as to what gift she would like that you are taking the privilege of sending her a check (or money order for the sum of money), with the friendly request that she buy something.

catsup to 1/2 cup water and simmer until tender. Serve with hot bacon on a hot platter.

BAKED POTATOES WITH BACON

4 medium-sized potatoes
1/2 cup milk 8 slices bacon
Salt and pepper

Wash and bake potatoes. Fry bacon until crisp and pour off fat. Mash bacon into small pieces. Cut baked potatoes in halves, lengthwise, and scoop out potatoes. Add seasonings, bacon and milk. Mash and beat until fluffy. Refill shells and put in hot oven to brown on top. Makes 4 servings.

MIXED GRILL

Use fresh or vinegar pickled honeycomb or pocket tripe. Brush tripe with melted fat. Broil smooth side down 5 minutes. Turn. Broil 5 minutes. Serve honeycomb side up, adding seasoning to taste and melting butter. Bacon and tomato slices may be broiled with tripe for a mixed grill.

Cape Coats—So Chic!

By BETTINA BEDWELL

IMPORTANT news that will be welcome to a lot of women is the return of the cape coat to the styles. This coat was a big item in chic in the twenties, like many other styles of this spring.

It is so comfortable and so good to wear in mild weather that it deserves this resurrection. A cape coat can be worn far into the summer, when a regular coat would have to be put away in mothballs. It is also very flattering to all of you who need a little softness and width to the top of your silhouette.

The model sketched from a very famous house, will show you what the 1944 cape coat looks like. Made of very thin wool in a rich Burgundy red color, the cape sleeves are elbow length, the neckline and front closing collarless and minus revers. A gold buckle closes the coat at the waistline.

Long printed silk gloves to match the dress are worn with the coat.

NEW YORK—April 14—Manhattan Glitter: Charles Boyer crossing Park ave. without inviting a single feminine stare—because he doesn't look much like Charles Boyer... The Voice (Frank Sinatra) and The Nose (Jimmy Durante) welcoming Eddie Davis back to Leon Eddie's after his six weeks' furlough... Songstress Nan Wynn, who weds Cy Howard on the 30th, totting packages full of trousseau up the Main Stem... Billie Burke flitting into the Cottillon Room in a pink ostrich feather boa... Russell Swann, the wag of the Waldorf, parking a bunny through the lobby—on a leash!... Luise Rainer looking especially petite beside a towering major on 55th.

LIONEL HAMPTON is the first maestro to offer his orchestra to play at debarkations of soldiers here, when peace is declared and security regulations permit. A parade of other bands should follow suit... Ed (Duffy's Tavern) Gardner finally made up with his sponsor and signed a renewal contract for one year. It's said to contain an unusual clause, enabling him to cancel the deal if he's successful in getting better time on another network... Victor Jory confided to the boys at a matinee of "Winged Victory" the other day that it won't be long before he gives up acting for good and settles down to being a producer.

WANT TO KNOW what a soldier dreams about? Frank Bonacchini, of the Coq Rouge, received an hilarious letter from former newspaperman, Frank Farrell, now a lieutenant with the Marines stationed somewhere in the far, far South Pacific. Under a sketch of a two-ton lass with a basket of fruit on her head and a ring in her nose, Farrell wrote: "For one evening at the Coq Rouge—one Suisseesse, one cup of whisky, one seafood cocktail, one scallopi Marata, one Kirsch sherbet, one cafe noir plus an hour's chat with the gang, I'd give up women for life. (These women, anyway!)"

ALL AROUND TOWN: Morton Downey waxing Eromantic with a cute colleen at the Cub... Arleen Whelan in her new bonnet—which, believe it or don't, is made entirely of War Stamps... Outside the Mutual network studios—six-year-old Bobby Hookey, whose femme fans use rattles instead of lipstick... Jim Ameche calling his brother Alexander Graham on a phone of the same name, at Schrafft's... Barbara Bannister and Lenora Lemmon at the 15 Club with one man between them... Muriel Angelus of "Early To Bed" autographing the lining of a WAC's hat

Mary Martin giving the Monte Carlo customer, One Glimpse of Venus... Plenty of chin-ups looking the pin-ups in the Pierre's lobby as sultry Dottie Lamour, flame-haired Arleen Whelan and curvaceous Phyllis Brooks call for their keys at the desk... Summe O'Dea, the "Wallflower" beauty, looking like a stranded posy, at the Marguery surrounded by a trio of handsome Marines.

Joan Crawford returned from an unpublicized trip to Toronto, where she entertained the Norwegian flier... Hedy Lamarr is having the picture "Diamond Rock" prepared for her at Metro while she is busy making "The Conspirators"...

Anne Shirley and Charles Russell are a budding romance... Grad Sears is telling friends that United Artists will acquire "The Voice of the Turtle" with Leland Hayward in on the producing set-up.

JOAN CRAWFORD is being considered for the leading role in Ben Bogues' "Dark Waters"... Lon McAllister will do a WAC recruiting tour for the Army... There's trouble brewing between Veronica Lake and Paramount with a contract option in the offering... Jean Pierre Aumont has written Maria Montez that he spent a furlough in London with Vivien Leigh, Laurence Olivier and David Niven. Olivier, he wrote, is directing and producing a Technicolor Shakespearean production of "Henry V"... William Bendix, at the Hollywood Canteen, said that he wrote to a soldier in the Aleutians asking if he should send him some Mary Ann candy. The soldier replied, "The devil with the candy. Send Mary Ann."

LANA TURNER will play a WAC in a picture being prepared for her at Metro... A unique screen credit is that on "White Cliffs of Dover" which reads, "Additional Poetry by Robert Nathan"... Betty Hutton and Lieut. J. M. Waldeck are a thing... The Actors' Lab is going to do a production of "The Lower Depths" with a cast that includes Charles Laughton, Franchot Tone, Aline Mackintosh, Jules Dassin and Helen Beverly... The Screen Writer's Guild and Radio Writer's Guild are getting together to consider the problem of the use of material in television and to protect television sales of all current properties.

GEORGE JESSEL and Rosemarie Ward continue to be a romance... Buddy De Sylva, while on his vacation to Mexico City and the Caribbean, intends to write a new musical for Broadway, later to be produced by Paramount... Noel Coward is touring South Africa with a British soldier entertainment unit... Floyd Bacon's next assignment will be to direct "Sundays Dinner For A Soldier."

George Holland Boston After Dark

ESTHER DOROTHY CAME HOME from Hollywood raving about Eddie Cantor's newest singing protegee, Nora Martin... Miss Martin and Ginny Sims alternated as models of the famous white mink coat (which Miss Dorothy created) at a party held in the Los Angeles Town House... Hollywood is still gasping at recollections of that party, Frances King writes... Frances and her partner, Harry Noble, have been booked into Reno's foremost night club, but they will have parts in "Boardwalk," RKO's forthcoming musical... Charlie Koerner, who discovered Noble and King while on a trip to Boston, should have his scouts investigate the possibilities of Jayne Manners, the tall comedienne and songstress of "Allah Be Praised"... Miss Manners belongs in a kid... So do Edward Gwenn and Barbara Everest, for that matter... They are the leads of the Somerset Maugham mistake, "Shepey."

ANTHONY KEMBLE COOPER, of the same play, should be forced to suffer hearing himself articulate for just one performance—just one... He sounds, from the rear of the orchestra, as if he were mouthing his lines over the hurdle of a tongue-depressor... It would be nice, while touching for a moment on the local theatrical scene, to see the young veteran Colburn Goodwin, now in "Decision," get the most important leading role in a good play. Two such improbable coincidences would make him a star.

JACK CHAN AND NOEL TOY seem to be (as Dorothy Kilgallen might term it) a "Boston heart-today"... Noel's New York boy friend, who is expected here for the week-end, is a New York movie critic for a newspaper... "Ginger" Harmon, for this column's money, was the hit of the Mayfair's Guest Night... She is at Shangri-la.

YET IT SEEMS a bit unfair to subordinate Johnny Howard, the Mayfair's industrious emcee, to another performer... Giving himself time to effect a cure of a couple of bad habits; i.e., (a) laughing infectiously at his own stuff and (b) taking time out to explain quips which are not particularly subtle and wholly within the quick grasp of even a night club audience's average I.Q., Johnny will endure as a comic, with whistling and singing interludes... He has endured a long time at the Mayfair—10 weeks this visit... And the customers obviously are with him. (So are we).

A READER wants to place $100 at odds of sixty to one on the Red Sox, the Croninians as short-enders... If anyone wishes to handle the transaction, he may apply to this reader with written permission from Henry L. Shattuck and that other Republican investigator of Boston gambling (whose name, sorry, we forget), as well as—to be sure—the duly elected officials whose overseership it might come under... What impossible balderdash (to borrow something for a change, from the British)... We mean, of course, a crusade to wipe out, exterminate, annihilate, discombobulate, annihilate gambling in a state which is a lawful partner in the most savage "grind-'em-out" dodge of the ages, legalized, pari-mutuel racing.

JACK BRADLEY, the Boston bigtime paint contractor (who coats battleships and continents like Dovens and Edwards), has told the best true anecdote of the newly-born horsing-racing season... He swears he heard a somewhat callow young man air his reasons for not betting at Ganest... Paying his first visit to a race track, this gentleman was going to be sure that the city slickers weren't putting anything over on him... He counted the sellers' windows on the ground floor of the race track... Then he counted the cashiers' windows, where bettors collect their winning wagers... He ascertained that there were—twice as many sellers' windows as cashiers'... "Hat! What a racket! There's twice as many sellers' windows as there are cashiers"... That makes it 2 to 1 against you before you even start," he said. "Not for me. Not for me!"

Boston Orators Win Praise for New York's Showing

Boston's champions in the John Paul Jones Oratorical Contest, Miss Dorothy Willette, 19, senior at the Staley College of the Spoken Word, and William H. Patterson, Jr., 16, Boston High School senior, were en route home today after making a splendid showing in the Eastern Zone finals of the contest at New York.

Miss Willette and young Patterson won the praise of a distinguished board of judges and were presented with $50 war bonds.

Eastern zone winners were William J. Lyons, freshman at Fordham University and son of Bronx Borough President James J. Lyons, and Miss Rae Abruzzo, a senior at St. Brendan's High School, Brooklyn, N. Y.

They will compete next Thursday night in New York with winning orators from the Midwest and Pacific Coast zones for the national championship.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 14 (AP). — Richard Gill of Long Branch High School, Long Branch, N. J., won the Atlantic Seaboard semi-final of the American Legion's national oratorical contest. Contestants included James J. Sullivan of Boston Latin School.

Adams Hits Tuckerman Attack on Suffolk Downs

By JACK CONWAY

CHARLES F. ADAMS, director of racing at Suffolk Downs, takes issue with Racing Commissioner Bayard Tuckerman, Jr.'s recent statement in which he insisted the horsemen were not getting their just share of the racing spoils.

Tuckerman voted against granting a license to Suffolk Downs on the ground the purses were not increased enough. Chairman Charles F. Connors and Commissioner Harry Allen voted for the granting of the license.

In a letter to this writer, Adams says that if Commissioner Tuckerman realized the true financial picture he was unfair when he made his statement. Adams' letter is as follows:

"As Director of Racing at Suffolk Downs, and in view of a recent statement by one of our State Racing Commissioners—Mr. Tuckerman—I feel that a true understanding of facts by the press might not be amiss. I am not seeking publicity or any further controversy, but presenting facts which I believe, in perspective, are a fairer presentation of the racing situation than his announcement would imply.

Wages Raised

"DURING the year 1943, jockeys were awarded an increase in compensation of from 40 to 50% over that received in 1942.

The wages of grooms and exercise boys were increased approximately 50% over the prevailing wage in 1941-42.

"The price of yearlings at the auctions, using figures in the American Racing Manual, increased 190% over 1942 and 50% over prices in 1941 and were the highest within my recollection.

"The total yearly purse distribution throughout the U. S. A. and Canada showed an increase of 24% over 1942. Suffolk Downs payments to horsemen in 1943 were 91% above those of 1942."

"Note: This is not equitable comparison as Florida tracks operated but a short period. Delaware did not operate at all and only one of the California tracks was open. Had these tracks operated, the percentage of increase, undoubtedly, would have been substantially larger.

"THE COMMISSIONER stated the 1943 increase in mutual play at Suffolk Downs was 30% over 1942 and payments to horsemen only 5% higher, but casually or carelessly overlooked the fact that of this increase in mutual handle, the State took its 3 1/2% and half the "breaks" and the government 90% of any gross profits derived therefrom. Increase in volume has but little significance, as far as net profits are concerned, or as an intelligent base from which to prepare a budget. If the Commissioner realized this, and one in his responsible position should, it was very unfair to have conveyed the impression that was clearly his intent.

"Admittedly it is true, and I know the management of every first class race track in this country appreciates the fact that horsemen's expenses are higher in every department and that they are fairly entitled to every consideration that a track is able or permitted to offer.

"Those identified with racing realize that the 'cheap' horse, on the average, is the more profitable. Compared with the 'better' horse, value for value, the 'plater' is overpaid and every increase in minimum purses adds further to the present disparity. Increases in purses should properly be devoted, as far as possible, to the benefit of the better class of horses, to be fair to all concerned from the breeder down the line.

"The 'cheap' horse at most tracks has the opportunity to run often—probably every week—while the 'better' horses have fewer opportunities and there is less inclination to over-race them. This is a problem for intelligent and careful consideration. Any improvement will be real progress."

Favors Higher Stakes

SUFFOLK DOWNS has announced it will run the $25,000 Yankee Stakes for three-year-olds this year, while it will increase the value of stakes for two-year-olds.

Adams makes the point that the owners of the "cheap" horses have benefited most from the increase in the value of purses. He believes that the owners of the more expensive horses have not got an equal share in the new racing prosperity. It is the policy of Suffolk Downs to do as much as possible for the better horses now that the purses for the "cheap" horses have been increased.

Braves, Sox Tangle

By BILL GRIMES

Bob Coleman made his debut as a full fledged major league manager this afternoon, when the Braves opened the annual three-game intra-city series with the Red Sox at Braves Field.

While Casey Stengel was hospitalized with a broken leg a year ago, Bob Coleman and George "High Pockets" Kelly co-managed the Braves. Although he has piloted minor league clubs for a quarter of a century, Bob Coleman didn't get a chance to manage a big league club until "Ole Case" resigned last winter.

The Red Sox have played seven games this spring, but the Braves have only been in action against the Phillies and the Yankees. So, naturally, the Croninmen are more advanced than the Tribe.

LUPIEN SOLD

Al Javery, the Braves "ace" hurler and Emmett O'Neil were named starting hurlers. Javery, who will pitch the opening game of the National League season Tuesday against the Giants in New York, was to go seven innings. Despite the fact that he was charged with the defeat Monday in Wilmington, when the Phillies turned back the Braves 3 to 1, Javery is at the peak of his form. O'Neil, who came up last season from Louisville, is a fire ball hurler anxious to give Coleman a chance to see if the Braves have acquired any batting power during the off season.

While the Red Sox were working out yesterday afternoon, General Manager Eddie Collins and Manager Joe Cronin put through a sale which sent Lupien to the Phillies. With "Lupe" on his way to join the Blue Jays, George Metkovich will draw the first base assignment.

With the exception of Metkovich, who, however, did play a few games at first last year, the Red Sox fielded a veteran infield, Bobby Doerr, "Skeeter" And, Manager Cronin had the veteran Bob Johnson, who came here from the Washington Senators, during the winter, Leon Culberson and Ford Garrison patrolling the outfield.

GLADU IN LINEUP

The Braves presented two players who have never played before Boston fandom. They are Roland Gladu, a little French-Canadian, who was in right field, and Steve Shemo, a smooth fielding second baseman.

"Frenchy" Gladu was recently discharged from the Canadian army. He didn't join the Braves until a week before the season broke camp at Choate School. He is in the lineup because "Chuck" Workman, the regular right fielder, is out of the game, due to a sacro-iliac strain. Gladu is a left hand batter and hits to all three fields with about equal power.

Steve Shemo is up from Springfield of the Eastern League and although he hasn't hit his batting stride has shown enough defensive ability to receive the call over Ben Geraghty.

Kerby Farrell, who took over when Johnny McCarthy broke his leg last season, was at first base for the Braves, with Shemo at the key stone sack, Connie Ryan at third and Billy Wietelmann covering short stop.

Mgr. Coleman has made a change in the Braves outfield. He is playing "Butch" Nieman in

Tarzan Brown In Marathon

"Tarzan" Brown, Narragansett Indian, winner of the 1939 B. A. A. Marathon, came out of retirement today and sent in his entry for the April 19th event. Brown, who won in '36 and '39, announced his retirement a year ago, but evidently he had a change of heart.

Three other contenders for the 26-mile, 385-yard title sent in their entries. CPO Johnny Semple, of Beverly and former B. A. A. captain, sent his entry from the Naval Training Station at Sampson, N. Y. Tony Medeiros of north Medford, eighth last year and Pat Boulton, golden glove boxer from Westmount, F. Q.

center field and has shifted Tommy Holmes to left. Right now, it's too early to pass judgment on Nieman as a center fielder but "Butch" is confident that he can play that position. Mgr. Coleman will give him ample opportunity to prove that he can.

The Braves and Red Sox will play the second game of the Inter-City series tomorrow afternoon at Fenway Park and the final clash will be in the same park Sunday P. M.

Red Barfett Joins Braves at Wigwam

Charles "Red" Barfett, accompanied by Mrs. Barfett, accompanied by Mrs. Barfett, arrived in Boston today and immediately went to Braves Field to report to Bob Quinn.

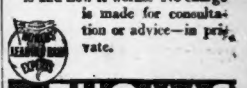

The capable right-handed pitcher said he had been working out on the Coast and is in condition right now. With Al Javery, Jim Tobin, Nate Andrews, Red completed the Big Four of the Braves staff which won 57 of the 60-odd games taken by the Tribe last year.

Cronin Ready in June To Play First for Sox

By HUCK FINNEGAN

ULYSSES LUPIN has been sold by the Red Sox to the Phillies, and to those who have followed the Sox since Lupe's advent in '42, the sale comes as no surprise. The finger was on him from the start.

Why it is that a Greater Boston boy is always looked upon as a "step-child" at Fenway Park is hard to fathom, but such seems distinctly to be the case. Hark to the struggles of Johnny Barrett, Art Mahan, Gene Desautels, Joe Mulligan and Eddie Pellagrini before Lupin.

Ulysses Lupin

It is easy to recall the fine impression Lupin made at Saratoga in the spring of '42. Joe Cronin had announced the previous winter that "Lupin is the first baseman until Foxie proves he's the better man." It was nothing but campaign talk as events proved.

All spring long the Sox "royal rooters" who echo every Cronin thought, were saying: "Lupin isn't a major league first baseman." "Lupin can't make the 3-5-3 (double) play." "Fenway Park is no place for a left-handed hitting first baseman."

Foxie opened the season, if you recall, was injured and finally shipped to the Cubs. Lou Finney and Cronin himself played the bag during his absence and it was only after much pressure that Lupe got his chance. That came on June 2 at Fenway Park, and the press box echoed: "He'll play himself out of there in a week."

Cronin meantime had bought a new first baseman's mitt and was ready to take over when Lupe faltered. But, the Harvard boy fooled 'em all, betting in some 72 runs from June 2 to season's close and winding up the season with a respectable .281 average.

Works for Old Boss

CREDIT? Perhaps he received it from the front office in the form of a raise, but he was held and see.

in no higher esteem by the royal rooters. And when he failed last season to live up to his '42 form (who did?) the hammers were swung more lethally than ever. An inept didn't need glasses to see that he was a dead duck.

Lupe has yet to reach his 27th birthday and his career is all ahead of him. His chin isn't down despite the tossing around he took here. "I'm going over there (Philly) and give them the best I've got," he said this morning as he awaited a call from Herb Pennock. "Herb (Sox old farm chief) must have confidence in me or he wouldn't have picked me up."

It may turn out to be the break of Lupe's career. He'll be playing for an up-and-coming organization rejuvenated by the Carpenter fortune, by Pennock and Fred Fitzsimmons. He'll be playing in a park (Shibe) which measures only 330 feet to right field as compared to Fenway's 350. He can pull the ball to his heart's content, and he'll reach that 330-foot fence where he couldn't reach Fenway's. He'll be hitting a rabbit-swing ball where last year he was swinging at a cup-cake. He'll be happier in his new environment where the Indian Love Call won't greet his every move, good or bad.

Cronin's Comment

"I ALWAYS FIGURED Lupe would do better in another park," said the tactful Joe Cronin, who last season in a moment of pique offered to trade him even up for telegrapher Joe Mangone.

Who'll take his place now he's gone? A Californian, naturally. For a starter it will be George Metkovich, who failed to make the grade with the Braves in three tries. When Metkovich is shifted to the outfield (circa June 1) and the snot starts melting off Cronin's midriff, the Sox first baseman will be the "Prisco Kid" himself, who has been itching to break in that first baseman's mitt since Foxie was sold to the Cubs. THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

School Grid Steals Show From Diamond

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Fancy football taking a fling at spring, actually stealing the spotlight in schoolboy sports activities in spite of the fact that the baseball campaign has already been launched!

There's an attractive week-end program on hand, highlighted by the floodlight clash tonight at Manning Bowl, Lynn, between Peabody and LaSalle Academy of Providence. Tomorrow morning, co-state champion, Melrose, will collide with the Salem Witches while in the afternoon Amesbury and Leominster will be facing alumni eleven. It's an ambitious program that will virtually end spring training for the grid-ers.

PEABODY UNDERDOG

This Peabody-LaSalle tussle will be a return engagement with the local Tanners attempting to gain revenge for a 12-0 setback last fall. Coach Bill Seegitz has had his outfit working out for the past three weeks—when weather permitted—but in spite of the fact that Peabody will have six veterans in the starting line-up, it will still be the underdog. Peabody will be especially strong at its tackle berths with John Berger and Henry Pelletier returning to the squad. Berger, a speedy 210-pounder, and Pelletier, slumping to a mere 198, have been tabbed by Coach Seegitz as two of the brightest line prospects for the 1944 season. They'll have the responsibility of holding the forward wall together.

There's little doubt that Peabody's offensive should click. The team will have a solid backfield from last fall in Dick Keogh, Walter Roche, Jack Connolly and Tony Kravchuck, a brother of the former All-Scholastic candidate, Max. This quartet has been working with clocklike precision and they should break into the scoring column.

Starting guards will be Billy Stevens and Luke McHugh with Art Adamopolis at center and Jim McDonald and Ted Duzdic on the wings.

EIGHT LETTERMEN

LaSalle will be starting the contest with eight lettermen led by a sandy guard in Art Sheridan, a 216-pound, All State choice. The Providence eleven will also have a thoroughly seasoned backfield to offset Peabody's pressure with Don Canners, Mike Gugliemetti, Don Fanchiera and Ed Bagdonavich to carry the ball.

This will be the first nocturnal football game since the dim-out declaration in 1942. Starting time has been set for 8:15.

Newton and Cambridge Latin baseball teams, slated to open their season in Art Sheridan, Cambridge, this afternoon, have moved over to the Newton diamond. Russell field will not be dried out until next week. This shift will force a change in the site of the return game which will be played in the home of the Cantabs.

Dempsey Named C. G. Commander

By JACK CONWAY

Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney are now on even terms as far as the services are concerned. Dempsey has been promoted to the rank of commander in the Coast Guard, according to information received by this writer from an authoritative source.

Dempsey has been a lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard.

Tunney has a rating as a commander in the Navy, and is in charge of Navy specialists.

News of Dempsey's promotion is certain to be well received by his many friends in New England. Jack was here last winter for a week in connection with a war bond drive. This writer toured war plants with Dempsey. Everywhere Dempsey went he was accorded a fine welcome.

LIKES LOUIS TO WIN

Dempsey retains all of his interest in boxing and in other sports.

"I would like to see Joe Louis box Billy Conn again," he said. "When he does, I feel Louis will win. Conn looked like a winner over Louis up to this thirteenth round of their last bout. He then made a mistake of trying to punch it out with the 'Brown Bomber' and got knocked out."

Before entering service, Dempsey used to referee frequently in New England. He told me these appearances gave him $10,000 a year.

TRAINED 60,000 BOYS

Dempsey has trained 60,000 boys who have entered the Coast Guard system. He has got them into excellent physical condition and has increased their confidence in themselves.

People interested in horse racing know Dempsey as well as do the followers of boxing as Jack once owned a racing stable. Dempsey still likes racing, but he found that his other business interests made it impossible for him to give proper attention to racing.

Dodgers Never Change

By the Associated Press

Among all the uncertainties surrounding wartime baseball, the fans can cling to one tried-and-true formula—the Dodgers are always the Dodgers.

Take for example the typical Dodgers doings of yesterday's Red Cross benefit game at Ebbets Field, in which Brooklyn triumphed over the Phillies, 13 to 11. To start, ex-Dodger Fred Fitzsimmons held his old team hitless for the first two innings in his first mound task since he became manager of the Phillies.

In the fifth Bill Hart and Stretch Schultz tried to occupy third base at the same time with the result that they both were run down for a double play.

Dieie Walker, an uncomfortable third baseman, rushed in for a pop fly in the sixth then pulled up and let it fall for a hit. And in the same inning, with two on base, Louis Olmo made a brilliant catch of a fly and then stood holding the ball, evidently thinking it was the third out, while two Phillies scampered home.

Olmo redeemed himself in the eighth when he belted a triple with two on base to tie the score and then stole home with the deciding run. And, as an added feature, Augie Galan, a switch hitter for more than 10 years, batted left-handed against southpaw Wilbur Reaser in the fourth and clouted a home run.

Other developments yesterday: Phillies purchased first baseman Ulysses (Tony) Lupien from Red Sox as "insurance" at first in case it is necessary for Jimmy Wasdell to play in the outfield.

CINCINNATI—Elmer Riddle slated to go full distance on mound today as Reds, undefeated in four exhibitions, meet Cleveland for the third time.

YANKEES—Spud Chandler, joining team until called for military service, tuned up his arm in batting practice and soon will be ready to take regular turn.

Canucks Win Stanley Cup

MONTREAL, April 14 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens, National Hockey League champions, won the Stanley Cup by defeating the Chicago Blackhawks, 5 to 4, in a "sudden death" overtime contest to sweep the final playoff series in four straight games.

Hector (Toe) Blake, veteran winger, settled the issue after nine minutes and 12 seconds of overtime play when he slapped in Butch Bouchard's pass for the winning goal.

The Canadiens, trailing 4-1 after the second period, rallied to tie the count in the third when Maurice Richard scored twice in the last four minutes of play.

Bartell in Navy

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP)—Dick Bartell, 36-year-old New York Giants third baseman, was sworn into the Navy as an apprentice seaman yesterday. He will leave Monday for the naval training station at Farragut, Ida.
